

What We Seek

Full Charge Bookkeeper- The bookkeeper's role is to ensure consistent and accurate financial information is produced in a timely and efficient manner for use by the Director of Finance, Executive Directors, and Board. The Food Project uses QuickbooksOnline for bookkeeping in conjunction with Bill.com for the efficient management of AP. We also connect directly to our Bank of America accounts for automatic transaction downloading. We use Salesforce for a number of purposes, including tracking all donations and sales.

Primary Responsibilities-

Primary responsibilities: Accounts Payable, Payroll, Accounts Receivable. Assist with Annual Audit and filing of 1099s. Assist in management of temporarily restricted funds.

Responsibilities

The primary responsibility of the bookkeeper is to manage all accounts payable and receivable transactions. Accurate coding of all incoming bills and/or receipts is critical to creating accurate financial reports. Ensuring all internal controls are adequate and maintained.

Accounts Payable: weekly review and input new invoices into Bill.Com and route to appropriate manager for approval; review pending bills with Finance Director for payment, and ensure timely payment of recurring expenses such as rents and insurance. Manage vendor accounts including banking information to speed up payments, and set up auto payments where appropriate. Monthly download credit card transactions and tie to receipts from staff; follow up on missing receipts and/or codes to ensure accuracy.

Accounts Receivable: Review bank activity weekly and code all receipts as they come in.
